

My Magic

There are many types of Magic ranging from close up such as coins, cards, ropes, thimbles, cups and balls ect. Then another branch is the stage magic such as sawing a person in half and the large illusions that David Copperfield presents so well. Then the allied arts such as ventriloquism, magical clowns, and juggling.

Most of my magical work has in the past been abroad including, Switzerland, Germany, and Japan My particular interest is Mental Magic and what is known as Parlour Magic presented to small audiences usually in private houses. I enjoy book tests, a security test which I designed myself, and a little thought reading sometimes using a crystal ball. I use a calculator which a spectator will place random sum in and I predict the final result.

Sugar lumps that will move mysteriously across a table, I have lately been using a startling head illusion, and then I have some general magic that will is suitable for all adult audiences. By choice I do not consider myself as a children's entertainer, although none of my magic is in any way risky. Below are links to some Children's entertainers that I am happy and pleased to recommend.

www.cheekydogmagic.co.uk

www.markpaulentertainments.co.uk

www.astramagic.com/barbara

Left: Street magic by special request
For Children in Japan.

Photo: My Koji Yugawa

